Chiang Makes Appointments to Accounting and Reporting Commissions

SACRAMENTO – State Controller John Chiang today announced several appointments to commissions that help to build solid accounting and reporting methods for California’s local governments.

The Controller appointed Pauline Marx of Piedmont, the Chief Assistant Treasurer for the City and County of San Francisco, to the Local Government Advisory Committee. The committee helps the State Controller maintain complete records of local government transactions and develop accounting procedures for special districts,

Members of the Local Government Advisory Committee are appointed when vacancies occur. They do not receive a salary.

Controller Chiang appointed the following to the California Uniform Construction Cost Accounting Commission, which administers a 1983 state law allowing local agencies greater leeway in public works projects if they adopt certain accounting procedures:

- Guiselle Carreon of San Diego, Director of Purchasing for the Grossmont Union High School District
- Linda Clifford of Sacramento, Chief Financial Officer of the construction firm C.C. Myers.
- Gene Cortright of Fairfield, Director of Public Works for the City of Fairfield.
- David Gomez of Palmdale, Director of the Palmdale Water District.
- Alec Pringle of Oxnard, Director of Engineering Services for the Ventura County Public Works Agency.

Members of the California Uniform Construction Cost Accounting Commission are appointed to three-year terms. They do not receive a salary.

More information on the responsibilities of each body can be found at www.sco.ca.gov.
